

DISCLAIMS

Clearwater Chinese Christian Church is not associated with any political party and does not participate in or support political campaigns on behalf of any candidates for public office.

Partisan statements made by church employees or guest pastors in church facilities or in church publications (printed or online) belong only to the individual and do not represent the church.

The church strongly encourages any speaker to focus on advancing the Gospel and strongly discourages speakers from using the pulpit to express personal political views. If/when such incidents happen, the church deacon board takes action to investigate, correct and discipline expressions that conflict with the priority of spreading the Gospel.
